OCTOBER 1994

SALT AND PEPPER SHAKERS surround you in this breakfast nook. Santa Barbara architect Brian Cearnal, of Cearnal Ehlen Associates, treated the window bay as a gigantic display case for his client's collection of more than 200 pairs of shakers. Each window holds eight glass shelves. Low-voltage track lighting above the windows creates a theatrical effect at night. An intrigued juror noted, "This is a way to live inside your collection."
